

As a satellite radio subscriber I find it incredulous that the NAB would now try to introduce any legislation to stop this service from providing the types of information all subscribers benefit from.

I suggest the NAB put its own house in order in regards to controlling media monopolies like Clear Channel, and leave satellite radio and those who choose to pay for it alone.